A photograph of a modern, curved architectural space. The ceiling is a large, white, grid-patterned skylight. The walls are made of light-colored, textured concrete. A curved ramp with a dark floor and a metal handrail leads down from the right side. In the background, there are two levels of the building, with the number '2' on the upper level and the number '1' on the lower level. The overall atmosphere is clean, minimalist, and bright.
